HEALTH & SAFETY WEEK OF ACTION

HUNDREDS KILLED
THOUSANDS INJURED
MILLIONS MADE ILL

According to the HSE between April 09 and March 10

152 people were fatally injured at work

There were 26,061 major injuries, such as amputations and burns, to employees

1.3 million people were suffering from an illness believed to have been caused or made worse by their current or past work.

Yet the 'real' picture is likely to be even more damning given that these statistics relating to fatalities in the workplace provided by the HSE are an underestimate due to reporting inadequacies. For example, they do not account for those killed in work-related road traffic incidents, those killed at sea, non-workers killed by work activities or indeed those killed by occupational illness (who could number as many as 50,000 per year according to the Hazards Campaign).

The current legislative and enforcement framework is failing to protect workers.

The ConDem Government's proposals contained in the Young Report (Oct 2010) not only fail to address the problems faced but will make things worse.

On top of this, the HSE is now faced with budget cuts of 35 per cent.

This will mean poorer enforcement and thus more workplace illnesses, injuries and deaths!

Health and safety breaches are crimes. If you kill, injure or hurt someone, you expect to go to jail.

Why is this different if you employ that someone? The fact is that hundreds of people in the UK are killed at work and untold millions suffer from occupational disease.

The Trade Union Co-ordinating Group (TUCG) brings together nine national unions (BFAWU, FBU, NAPO, NUJ, PCS, POA, RMT, UCU and URTU) to co-ordinate campaigning activities
