

fack families against corporate killers

Who Really Bears the Burden?

Samuel Adams

fack families against corporate killers

Our Journey of Burdens

- The wait
- The lack of support
- Battling the justice system
- The ultimate injustice
- Knowing it could so easily have been prevented
- Living with the unanswered questions

fack families against corporate killers

The Everlasting Burden...

...of a life to live without our loved ones

fack families against corporate killers

Fighting For The Right of You & Yours Not To Walk In Our Shoes

THE INSTITUTE OF EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS

GMB GMB@WORK

unite the UNION

UCATT BUILDING TOGETHER

UNISON

JOB KILLER

"David Cameron's government intends removing the burden on employers of safeguarding their employees, but the real emotional and financial burden is borne by the families of up to 1500 killed every year by preventable incidents at work."

"Let me make it clear: yes, the Conservatives will reduce the burden and impact of health and safety legislation in our country."

WORKERS' MEMORIAL DAY 28 APRIL WWW.HAZARDS.ORG/WMD

FAMILIES AGAINST CORPORATE KILLERS

Face the FACKs

THE HUMAN COST OF WORKPLACE KILLING

the workers' health and safety magazine July-September 2011 Number 113

hazards

Firm favourites

Since announcing in March 2011 the government's strategy to promote workplace safety protection, DWP minister Chris Grayling has met with 10 union industry bodies in the past six years. But he couldn't get his name in his diary for FACK, the organisation that tracks the Linda Whelan who have been harassed by work.

fack families against corporate killers

Make directors accountable for H & S

Stop Workplace Deaths NOW